FULL FIRE BREAK SYSTEM, VERDUGO HILLS

Glendale City Council's First Day Session; Bans Slot Machines

Our City comment & discussion by THOMAS D. WATSON

America Hoping That Obregon May Quell Uprising in Mexico

IT HAS been only a short time since the United States recognized the Mexican government under Obregon's presidency. This was done only after waiting until such a time as our government came to the conclusion that the present administration was strong enough to hold the rebel element in check. Only a few months ago the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce sponsored a trade excursion to the Mexican capital and now the country is in the throes of another revolution.

* * *

ACCORDING to the latest dispatches, the insurgents have gained considerable strength, after capturing many important towns in the revolting section, which includes five states.

The people of the United States have the most kindly feeling towards the Mexican nation and without any selfish motives whatever, and are anxious that a government strong enough to hold the rebellious element in check may yet be established. With President Obregon in control conditions were beginning to settle and the majority of the people had laid aside their arms and were seeking the instruments of peace.

* * *

THE greatest handicap to the peaceful administration of the Mexican people is the fact that a large percentage of the populace is illiterate and in consequence is easily led by crafty, self-seeking politicians.

* * *

CONSIDERABLE headway towards providing school facilities for the Mexican children has been made during the present administration and it is to be hoped that the trouble will only be a tempest in a teapot and that peace will continue in the southern republic.

* * *

AT THIS MORNING'S session of the Glendale city council among other actions taken, were two which to our understanding have just the opposite effects.

The first action we refer to was the ordering out of the automatic gum vending machines.

The other was the granting of a permit to an exposition company for the holding of a six-day carnival.

* * *

IN DISCUSSING the first action one of the councilmen made the following remarks:

"These slot machines are gambling devices pure and simple. They are catching the boys of the city and are encouraging the gambling instinct in them."

* * *

THE SECOND ACTION was taken without any special mention. If a gum vending machine encourages gambling we would like to know what a carnival, if run like any we have ever attended, will do. Gum machine gambling is tame in comparison with the multitude of gambling games run in connection with carnivals, and while the gum machine is to be barred, we are to have a carnival, which is a thousand times worse, in our midst for six days, straight running.

A CARNIVAL has no place in the business life of a city. It is of no benefit to a community. It is put on by outsiders without any thought of benefit to the city. No money is brought in but considerable is taken out.

Carnivals are a decided detriment and our city fathers would be working more for the city's interests by denying this permit than in doing away with the gum machine, which has been with us for a generation.

Consistency, where art thou?

FIRE BREAKS IN VERDUGO HILLS PLANNED

Complete System Is Need to Guard Against Future Blazes

It seems almost miraculous that there were no more forest fires during the three days of prevailing winds. The most serious blaze was that in the Verdugo hills and probably the dying down of the wind Monday night really saved the entire Verdugo range, for the ordinary fire break would prove a silght stacle against a 70-mile wind. which would carry sparks and even the leaping flames across the widest one. In ordinary times, of course, a fire break is an effective barrier to the spread of a forest blaze and it is the plan to have every mountain side fully protected in this way Regarding the local situation the statement is made that plans for a comprehensive system of firebreaks to protect the Verdugo Hills from a recurrence of the conflagration that Monday and Tuesday swept the slopes were yesterday under discussion by property owners in the endangered region.

At daylight yesterday the fire, after having reached the top of the ridge north of Burbank, was put under control, and last night was extinct. City and county officials, who co-operated during the two days of fighting, were yesterday engaged in bringing down from the canyon the men and equipment used.

County Fire Warden Flintham said yesterday that the firebreaks at present in the Verdugo Hills probably saved the county from a disastrous fire of immense proportions. He said that within a few weeks gangs of workmen will go into the hills and complete the fire-break system to guard against any future combination of high winds and dry brush, such as threatened the city of Burbank and the Sunset Canyon Country club and cottages.

Now if this is done at once instead of being put off until the next period of high winds scourges us, all will be well.

GLENDALE ROTARY CLUB HAS FULL PROGRAM

Glendale Rotary club held its regular weekly meeting at the Egyptian Village cafe today. President George Karr presided with Owen Emery, the regular clug song leader, conducting the singing. A goodly number of visitors were present, among them the following: Bert A. Cross, Burbank; J. Will Johnson, Pueblo, Colo.; Ed Nay, Pasadena; Joe Pottenger, Monrovia; George A. Acker, Oswego, N. Y.; Fred C. Moon, Jim Calkett, Otto G. Wildey and A. E. Sears, of Los Angeles. Another visitor was Dr. John Manning, who was a guest of Ed Nisle.

The secretary, Rene Olin, announced that the meeting last week was another 100 per cent one, all members having been present either at the Glendale or some other Rotary club since the meeting.

Members who had been in attendance at meetings in other cities were called on to tell of their experience. George Bentley responded, telling of his visit at the Pasadena club last week, speaking very highly of their club. Attention was called to the dinner which is to be given to the Glendale football teams by the different men's clubs of Glendale in conjunction with the Chamber of Commerce. It will be given next Thursday. The president called the members' attention to the Christmas tree party which is to be held at the High school on Christmas eve, at which meeting the Community Service Choral club will furnish part of the program.

Under communications a letter was read which had been received by the Glendale club from the Auckland, New Zealand Rotary club. The letter was one of greeting to Glendale and was probably inspired by a meeting of the delegates of the two clubs at the International Rotary convention, which was held last June in St.

D'YOU WANT TO SEE WHEELS GO 'ROUND? JUST TRY A LINER

They have in the past contributed largely to the success of the various kinds of business—they have pulled many a struggling firm out of the rut.

The classified staff of the Daily Press has reports of sales, for instance, in real estate, being made from the insertion of a single advertisement. These sales in many instances run up into the hundreds and thousands of dollars, bringing a wonderful return in the form of commission to the real estate dealer.

The same may be said in connection with any other line of business. The furniture, the automobile, the hardware, the drug, the dry goods and many other lines of business are very often materially helped by the smaller liner ads.

Now and then the liners of the Press miss fire—they do in every paper. This does not mean that the classified column should be condemned. Maybe the thing advertised is not salable. Maybe it is something that no one reading the paper wants. There are dozens of reasons why it may not "take."

The value of the classified column has been proven, however, and it has also been proven that the liners of the Press constitute the best advertising medium of their character in this section.

GLENDALE CLEARING HOUSE IS NOW FUNCTIONING

Nothing is more significant of the commercial development of Glendale than the organization of an embryo clearing house for all the banks of the city. At present it is functioning as an exchange for local banks only with Mr. Thomas of the Pacific Southwest Trust and Savings bank acting as clearing house clerk. While it is a great convenience, yet, because its returns are limited, it by no means represents the real bank clearings of the city. Its permanent officers have been elected, however, and within the next two or three months it expects to be functioning as a real clearing house cooperating with the banks of Los Angeles.

Its staff of officers consists of A. R. Eastman, of the Glendale State bank, president; D. H. Smith of the Pacific Southwest Trust and Savings bank, vice president; R. F. Kitterman of the Security Trust and Savings bank, secretary and manager. Local clearings are made every day in the savings bank department of the Security Trust and Savings bank.

REHEARSING MUSIC FOR THE COMMUNITY CHRISTMAS SERVICE

The musical part of the Glendale Community Christmas celebration is now being perfected. All singers in the city are being invited by J. Arthur Myers, director of the Glendale Choral club, to attend its rehearsal Monday night in the High school auditorium. John Smallman has announced that the oratorio society will attend. Handel's "Messiah" is now in rehearsal. Choristers from various churches are planning to make carol-singing pilgrimages Christmas morning through the residential districts of Glendale.

GIRLS' LEAGUE TO PLAY SANTA CLAUS

The Girls' League of the Glendale High school tomorrow afternoon will give a Christmas party in the Boyd street school, Los Angeles. Fruit, cake, nuts, apples, candy canes and other goodies will be given to the thirty-six children who have been invited. Each child will receive a small gift also. The affair is in charge of the philanthropic committee of which Cathefine Baird is chairman.

BOWLING GREEN IN GLENDALE NEXT?

Board of Education in Move to Start Same on Canadian Plan

Another movement on foot to make Glendale an out-of-door sport center by the organization of a bowling green club where the game, which is becoming immensely popular, will be played according to Canadian rules, was revealed in action taken by the board of education at a short special session Wednesday morning. At that session resolution was adopted to lease 150 square feet of the Sparr Heights school site at a rental of not less than $5 per month, at the corner of Paloma and Downing avenues.

This action followed an application to lease that portion of the site by A. E. Baron and Eglis Taylor, who are actively engaged in organizing the proposed bowling club for which there is a strong demand from Canadians who have become residents of Glendale and other lovers of out of door diversions. The ground selected is considered peculiarly well adapted to the purpose for which it will be used and it is hoped the matter will be put through without any unnecessary delay, that improvements may proceed which will make the greens available by the first of May.

Under the state law the board of education cannot enter into a lease of that kind without advertising for bids as a matter of formality.

Mr Baron states that the organization of such a club will put Glendale well in the van of the movement to develop this popular

POLISHED SPEAKER DELIGHTS OXY STUDENTS

Dr. Pennucio, of the New York State University, gave a very delightful speech yesterday in the Occidental chapel. His subject was "The Soul of the Immigrant," and he told of his dreams, desires, and fervent wishes to be able to come to this country. Dr. Pennucio is from Italy, but came to the United States over twenty years ago. Old men and women often get down on their knees when their ship first sights the Statue of Liberty. He emphasized the fact that all of these newcomers want to be regular citizens. He then gave a little monologue of an ordinary immigrant talking to an American. This talk was delivered in broken English, as the talker was supposed to be from Italy very recently. This coused considerable laughter on the part of the students, as he made it very humorous. The next idea taken up was the liberty which Americans have. The rest of his speech dealt with this topic and he closed in an impassioned plea to think well of our brothers and sisters across the ocean.

Dr. Pennucio had a fine delivery, and his carefuly chosen words, the ease with which he spoke them, and the way he made everyone feel them, created a wonderful impression upon the students.

SAILOR LAD ON BIKE IS STRUCK BY AUTO

While riding a bicycle on San Fernando road past Forest Lawn Memorial Park about 8:30 last night, William Gerber, whose home address is uncertain, was struck by an automobile driven by J. B. Marchand of Los Angeles. He was brought to the Glendale Sanitarium hospital, where it was found that he was uninjured. He stated that he had left the crew of the S. S. Finland at San Pedro and was enroute to San Francisco.

"CHEXREKIRO" BANQUET NEXT

Annual Meeting of C. of C. to Be Mutual Club Function as Well

The annual meeting of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, which will be held January 15 in the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, also will be the occasion of the first "Chexrekiro" banquet.

"Chexrekiro," according to W. E. Hewitt, president of the Chamber of Commerce, is a coined word consisting of the first two letters of the five organizations interested in the function: Chamber of Commerce, Exchange club, Realty board, Kiwanis club and Rotary club.

These organizations, which represent the business life of the community, are planning to attend the banquet in full force. A table will be reserved for each, and each club is being asked to provide ten minutes of entertainment.

The principal speaker of the occasion will be one of the most prominent orators in Southern California. His name will be announced in a few days.

The idea of such a banquet originated with Dr. Henry R. Harrower of 920 East Broadway and was taken up immediately by the Exchange club.

"The co-operative spirit behind this affair speaks well for the progress of Glendale," asserted E. F. Sanders, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, this morning. "All of this organizations are functioning through the Chamber of Commerce for the up-building of Glendale."

GLENDALE KIWANIS TO DINE, NOT LUNCH TOMORROW

The regular Friday noon luncheon of the Glendale Kiwanis club has been postponed, an evening dinner at the Glendale Tavern, 1120 South San Fernando road, at 6:30 of the same day, taking its place.

Every Kiwanian is urged to attend this dinner, as valuable information regarding the outcome of the recent visiting contest will be disclosed. The winners of the contest will be announced and the losers will have to furnish the victors with their dinner, as the rules of the contest state. Only the officials know the result of the four weeks' contest, and every Kiwanian is to attend not knowing whether a free dinner awaits him, or whether he will have to pay for two.

The program for the evening is in charge of the splendid entertainment committee of the club, and several good acts are to be presented. Reports of various committees will be read, and a short business session will be held.

Friday's party is strictly informal, and President A. L. Ferguson urges everyone to be on time, the banquet starting promptly at 6:30.

BOARD OF EDUCATION HIRES TWO TEACHERS

A meeting of the teachers' committee of the board of education was held Wednesday morning, at which, under authority granted at a regular meeting of the board, the committee elected two of the ten new teachers to be employed at the beginning of the new semester, February 1, viz. Miss Bessie Marks and Miss Mabel Ahl, both of Glendale. Besides employing these ten new teachers, two vacancies in the teaching staff will have to be filled.

YES, BONNIE JEANNE IS GOING TO HAVE A CHRISTMAS TREE

Good news, folks!

Bonnie Jeanne is to have a Christmas tree—a regular tree—the kind that Santa Claus brings, all bedecked with spangles of all kinds, and sparklers, and tinsel—an' everything.

You know the kind we mean.

And on this Christmas tree there will be presents for everybody, from the youngest to the oldest and neither the tree nor the presents is going to cost the people of Glendale one cent. All you have to do is to come to the party—Bonnie Jeanne will do the rest.

Full particulars about this tree and party will be in the Press issues of Tuesday and Friday, December 18 and 21.

Bonnie is working overtime trying to find gifts to recommend to her friends. She makes the rounds of the stores every day, the idea being to find out what is being sold so that she can thereby save the steps and tempers of the busy housewives of this city.

But don't forget Bonnie's Christmas tree. It will bear lots of pretty surprises and all of them will be free.

COLORADO BLVD. IN EAGLE ROCK IS BUILDING UP

Building on the west end of Colorado in Eagle Rock is certainly taking a leap. Two more structures are going up at the present time, of which mention should be made. The first one is the new $40,000 store and apartment building, which will be erected at 2732 Colorado. At the present time, dirt has been removed from the site to a depth of about 12 feet. This makes rather a huge hole, but as the structure will be of brick and two stories high, it is necessary to go this deep. There will be four stores on the lower floor, while the apartments will be over head.

The other building is next door to 2530 Colorado. It will have two stores. C. J. Stillwell of Glendale is having this building erected and it will be of one-story frame construction.

These two buildings assure Eagle Rock of six new stores and with these already far along in construction, the building future looks rosy to say the least. Soon Colorado boulevard will be thick with buildings, and such always spell prosperity.

LOCATION BURBANK KIWANIS CHRISTMAS TREE IS CHANGED

At the regular weekly meeting and luncheon of the Kiwanis club at the Hotel Elizabeth yesterday, it was voted to have the Community Christmas tree and celebration on the vacant lots across from the city hall on Third and Olive avenue, in place of on Santa Anita and the boulevard, as formerly decided upon. The members came to the conclusion that it would be too hazardous to children on account of congested traffic if it was held on the boulevard. All of the gifts and Christmas tree decorations have been purchased and all is in readiness for the big event on Christmas eve. Four new members attended their first meeting yesterday: Chas. B. Wood, Freeman Lang, V. Martinussen and E. L. White. An address was given by Rev. Simmons. Luncheon was served by the Women's club and was very much enjoyed, as usual.

GLENDALE'S NEW BAND IN REHEARSAL

Glendale's community band rehearsed last night at the high school and gave especial attention to numbers that will be given at the Glendale community Christmas celebration. Arthur Balue of Los Angeles, director, states that there is still an opportunity for experienced players to join the band.

GLENDALE CITY DADS' FIRST DAY MEET

Some High Lights of This Initial Morning Session

Today the Glendale city council held its first regular daylight session. The next one will be a week from today. The schedule is for meetings every Thursday at 10 a. m. and on first and last Tuesdays of the month, at the same hour. Below are some of the high lights of today's meeting.

The hearing of the protests on the widening of Central avenue was set for tonight at 7:30 o'clock. This promises to be a lively session. Those in favor of the widening state that since the last meeting 3000 feet formerly on the protest, are now in favor of the work. Those opposed claim that a majority of those living south of Broadway are opposed to the widening.

An additional petition was filed asking that Central from Broadway to Lexington be widened. O. M. Newby stated that he is opposed to widening any setcion of Central and that all of the street should be widened at the same time.

There should be plenty of fireworks at tonight's session.

The building inspector was instructed to investigate whether or not the time granted for the various temporary real estate offices in the residential districts had expired. "I am opposed to permitting these offices to remain any longer than possible at their present locations," said Councilman Horn. "They are a drawback to the communities in which they are located. If their time has expired they should be removed."

A permit was granted to the Gardner Exposition company to hold a carnival at the corner of Park and Brand for six days, beginning December 23. This will be a six-feature carnival.

SLOT MACHINES WILL BE BANNED FROM GLENDALE

The automatic gum vending machines that have been scattered about the city during the past few weeks, were given a death blow by the Glendale city council at the initial morning session of that body today.

Several weeks ago the council granted those peddling these machines permits to place them in Glendale provided every one operating the machine be given a full five cents' worth of gum for every nickle expended. A number were scattered around the city. Now the council feels that it acted unwisely in granting permits for any of these machines, and this morning it instructed the city attorney to take steps to eliminate these machines and the chief of police was instructed to grant no additional permits.

The matter was brought up by Councilman Kimlin who, in support of his motion, said:

"These slot machines are gambling devices, pure and simple. They are catching the boys of the city and are encouraging the gambling instinct in them. There are several mothers in this city who are greatly worried about their boys who have taken to playing these machines. I think they are a disgrace to Glendale."

"I am with you," said Councilman Horn, "I opposed these machines from the start, but when I found they gave a full nickle's worth for every five cents put in them I did not see where they could do any damage Now I see it. I did not give the matter sufficient consideration. I believe we should rid the city of these devices."

The rest of the councilmen concurred in these views and the vote on rescinding the council's former action was unanimous.

CHRISTIAN CIRCLE CLUB WILL MEET TONIGHT

The Christian Circle club which is to hold its regular supper and Bible study session tonight at the Central Christian church, has a meeting of special interest in prospect. The organization is growing rapidly and has bright prospects for the coming year.

Glendale's Sewer

EXPERT INFORMATION FURNISHED DAILY ON THIS GREAT PROJECT

(In this column will appear from day to day, comments on the sewer project, which is the biggest thing that has ever confronted the citizens of Glendale, also articles prepared by the publicity committee of the sewer committee of the chamber of commerce which may be considered as expert information.)

Roy N. Clayton, 205 West Broadway:

"Without sewers Glendale cannot go ahead With sewers this city in three years will have a population of 100,000, with 10-story buildings instead of two-story structures."

Val M. Hollister, 416 North Louise:

"Sewers are an absolute necessity for Glendale if she is to maintain her present standing of valuations, or if she is to increase them. We have reached the limit of our growth without sewers—especially in the big building line. If we had sewers we would have as large apartment buildings as Los Angeles. From the health standpoint, also, it is extremely essential that the bonds be voted."

THE AGREEMENT BETWEEN GLENDALE AND LOS ANGELES

(This is the last of a series of articles discussing the agreement between Glendale and Los Angeles relative to the disposal of sewage from Glendale through the sewers of Los Angeles. Sections 9 and 10 of the agreement follow:)

Section 9

"That in consideration of this agreement, said party of the second part does hereby give and grant to said party of the first part the right to lay and construct any and all main sewers and lateral sewers, in, under and along any and all of the streets of the said party of the second part, city of Glendale, necessary to connect any and all territory which is now or may hereafter be included within the boundaries of the party of the first part, city of Los Angeles, and such other territory outside of the present boundaries of the party of the first part that may desire to

The sewer committee of the chamber of commerce was represented by W. E. Hewitt, Lyman P. Clark, Charles B. Guthrie, A. L. Baird and Alex Mitchell. E. B. Baker, Chester A. Smith and C. S. BEAUTIFUL GOWN OF 50 YEARS AGO ON EXHIBITION

The quaint old fashioned gown of 50 years ago, which is worn by Edythe Elliott in the beautiful play, "Smilin' Through," is on exhibition in the display window of Pendroy's and is attracting the attention of hundreds of shoppers.

There is something about that romantic period, that a mere relic sends a tinge through every feminine heart and its perhaps that strong love appeal which has made "Smilin' Through" one of the most fascinating plays that has ever been written.

Its wonderful lines, and its unexpected happenings hold the audience from beginning to end and the spiritualistic trend of the story adds an occult touch which borders on the mysterious.

"Smilin' Through" will be presented Saturday night at the Women's club theatre, corner Central avenue and Lexington and will serve as a vehicle to introduce the Royal Stock company to Glendalians.

The prices charged will be 50c, 75c and $1.00 and the seats are now on sale at Mathews confectionery, corner of Orange and Broadway.

Hear the "talking Studebaker" at Packer Auto Co., on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Open evenings.—(Adv.)

The Press wishes to take this opportunity to correct a mistake published in last night's paper. It was stated that Fisher's Variety store, 214 East Broadway, will remain open evenings until Christmas. Mr. Fisher states that the store will close at 6 o'clock as heretofore.

"The business has so great a valume during the daytime," states Mr. Fisher, "that we do not consider it necessary to remain open during the evenings."

LA CRESCENTA NOTES

Conservatively speaking there are over seventy (70) new homes under construction in La Crescenta and many more are being planned by recent purchasers of lots in the many new subdivisions opened during the past month. Among the most pretentious homes under construction is the Charles M. Turck home on Elcentro avenue. On the Kramer tract on North Rosemont avenue there are a number of homes being planned and under construction. The home of Mrs. Lulu B. Brooks is one of the attractive homes nearing completion on this highly restricted acorage. The happy feature about most of the houses under construction is that they are being built for homes and would be a credit to any community. Leon Bertram is building a home on Grand View avenue and when completed will cost $14,000. On Bissell avenue Mrs. Ida E. Jones of Los Angeles is building a home. Carl J. Andresen, an old resident of La Crescenta, is building a new home on his acreage on South Piedmont avenue. Other attractive homes under construction now are being built by J. L. Hauber on West Montrose avenue, F. J. Kimball, Michigan avenue, Arthur E. T. Chapman, two houses on North Los Angeles on the Cloud tract. Three new homes are under construction on the La Crescenta Heights subdivision. The first home of the many being planned for the San Souci tract is under construction. Allen Villmer of Montrose and Mr. Troutner of Glendale are building homes on the De Luxe subdivision on South Los Angeles avenue, and R. McDonald, a recent arrival from Tonopah, Nevada, is building the first home on Highway Highlands, a subdivision of 500 lots to be placed on the market next Sunday.

The second Community Sing and Up-lift Services held at the Community church Wednesday evening was enjoyed by a large attendance, many recent arrivals in La Crescenta taking an active part in the services, which was most pleasing to Rev. H. A. Kelso, pastor, who is very desirous of promoting community and social interests. J. Rapson is proving a splendid leader at these meetings.

The local Boy Scouts are now located in their new home in the Community church on West Montrose avenue. Their regular meeting will be held each Friday evening, with C. W. Augier, scout master.

"First Impressions" was the theme of the splendid talk made by Dean A. L. Bouton of New York university at the regular meeting of the La Crescenta Women's club yesterday afternoon, which was enjoyed by some 70 members. During the business session presided over by Mrs. C. A. Haskins, president, the club adopted the new constitution and by-laws revised by a committee composed of Mrs. Howard Reynolds, Mrs. Charles Turck and Mrs. Milford Howard. The club also adopted blue and gold as club colors. Mrs. A. W. Brown, Mrs. Arthur Aiken and Mrs. W. H. Newton made the first deposits in the birthday box. The entertainment committee announced a balloon dance for next Saturday evening, December 15, with Mrs. C. E. Culberson hostess. The report of the building committee was postponed for an early date next week. The secretary was asked to extend to Mr. and Mrs. John Steven McGroarty the club's sympathy and appreciation in their great tragedy. Mrs. S. B. Young and Mrs. F. Pinkers were hostesses during the social hour and Mrs. J. L. Hauber and Mrs. Viola Wadell presided over the tea tables.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Collins of Readfield, Maine, arrived last Saturday and are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Collins of East Prospect avenue.

Mrs. F. K. Czerniski of Glendale, visited friends here Wednesday and attended the meeting of the La Crescenta Women's club.

The many friends of Mrs. Guy D. Kennedy of Piedmont avenue, were grieved to learn of her death, which occurred at her home last Saturday. Services were held at Glendale last Tuesday and interment was in Forest Lawn cemetery. Mrs. Kennedy is survived by her husband, Guy D. Kennedy, and two sons.

WESLEY KUHNLE TELLS TEACHERS OF TRIP ABROAD

Wesley Kuhnle, who has recently returned from a trip abroad, gave a most interesting talk on his experiences at the luncheon meeting of the Music Teachers' Round-table section of the Glendale Music club held on Wednesday noon at the Harriett Mae Tea Room. Mr. Kuhnle spoke particularly of the changes of currency in Germany. He said in part, "An amount of money at one time sufficient to live on for two months was three months later only one-half enough to pay for a meal in a restaurant. I heard several interesting operas and concerts and attended the Bach festival at Leipsic, also services at St. Paul's and Westminster Abbey. As to teaching conditions in Germany, those having foreign pupils and are paid in foreign currency are the only ones who are able to make a living. The same is true with singers and performers. Those with foreign engagements are able to live comfortably.

"One time I rented a grand piano for $2 a month for the first month and $1 a month for the second, including cartage. When I reached New York I rented a grand piano for $35 a month and paid $14 or $15 cartage and used the piano only a week. In New York City, the taxicab fare from station to house is more than the carfare from Berlin to Munich."

Mrs. E. Cunningham, curator of the section, urged members to bring their suggestions as to topics for discussion. Among the subjects which have already been taken up by the section are: Memorizing and Sight Reading. The program and speakers' committees submitted the following program schedule: January 23, program by teachers; February 27, program by pupils; March 28, luncheon speaker; April 23, demonstration by pupils; May 28, discussion of problems; June 17, outdoor affair.

PROFITABLE SESSION FEDERATION OF P.-T. A.

Very profitable to those attending the session was the regular meeting of the Glendale Federation of Parent-Teachers' associations held Wednesday afternoon at the Chamber of Comerce rooms with Mrs. E. B. Moore presiding. Many new ideas were exchanged during the course of the reports which were given by the presidents of the various schools.

Mrs. H. V. Henry has requested that the program chairmen or presidents of the various associations meet with her immediately after the regular federation meeting in January to plan for a program to be given for Community Service of the Glendale Federation of P.-T. A.

Announcement was made that the new high school auditorium will be opened tonight with the annual variety show, which will also be repeated on Friday night. The reports of all of the presidents showed increased interest in the work of the P.-T. A. and betterment of conditions for the children. Mrs. C. H. Whitney of the high school reported a membership of 120. Mrs. R. L. Young gave the report for Central avenue; Mrs. L. Torrey, Acacia avenue, membership of 200; Mrs. S. L. Gillan, Colorado street, membership of 147; Mrs. Small, of Cerritos avenue; Mrs. C. Johnson, Doran street, membership of 90; Pacific avenue, Mrs. D. Phillips, membership of 264; Broadway, Mrs. Mary Reese, membership of 225; Glendale avenue Intermediate, Mrs. O. H. Spradling; reports from Columbus avenue, Magnolia, Grand View and Wilson avenue Intermediate were given by representatives for the presidents of these associations.

Mrs. Moore urged the association officers to visit particularly the Grand View and Magnolia avenue schools, which have problems to deal with in which they would like their assistance. Mrs. Wm. Alexander, chairman of emblems and magazines, urged that this branch of the work be emphasized in order that Glendale might retain a prominent place in the campaign now under way for emblems and magazines. The report of the treasurer showed a balance of $128.78 on hand.

George U. Moyse was present and gave a short talk on the new high school plant. He explained that owing to unforseen delay in the arrival of a certain portion of the school equipment, that it had been decided to move to the new school at the end of the first semester's work, which will be about January 25. Mrs. B. L. Cline distributed outlines for scholarship work for 1923-24.

Mrs. Moore stated that the next district conference would be held at Monrovia on January 10, when Mrs. Hugh K. Bradford, state president, would be present.

CHAPTER L OF P. E. O. ENTERTAINS TWO BRIDES

Chapter L. of P. E. O. enjoyed a wedding festival Wednesday when it entertained as guests of honor, two brides, Mrs. Lillian Shropshire Jones and Mrs. Myra Bartlett Hunt. It was an all-day session with a business meeting in the forenoon, a luncheon, and an afternoon program, at the home of Mrs. Warren Roberts. Covers were laid for forty and the hostess had beautifully decorated the luncheon table in the P. E. O. colors with yellow and white tulle fashioned into pom poms tied upon the chandelier with streamers ending in a big nifty bow from which strands descended to a cut glass basket filled with yellow daisies and maidenhair fern that formed the floral centerpiece and was reflected in the mirror upon which it was placed. The same floral scheme was repeated in other rooms.

The procession to the dining room was led by the two brides for whom the conventional wedding march was played and when all were assembled at their places, Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Hunt were presented with beautiful silver spoons by Miss Ruth Byram, on behalf of the chapter. Both made appropriate response and then a delicious two-course luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Genevieve Neel, Mrs. Mabel McFadden and Mrs. May Dickman. At each end of the table was a special bride's cake which was cut by the guests of honor.

Mrs. A. L. Bryant had charge of the program on the theme "Modern Inventions." In response to roll call each guest told of her first use of the telephone, her first auto ride, or something about other inventions or conveniences. A paper on inventions was read by Mrs. Bryant, and Miss Isabel Isgrigg sang. Mrs. Emma Burket was to have contributed to the program but was called away.

Guests of the day were Mrs. Tyler Palmer of Eagle Rock, Mrs. Margaret Latter of Berkeley, Mrs. Gardiner of Los Angeles, Mrs. W. W. Worley of Chapter AH, Mrs. R. M. Brown, Mrs. Arthur Cross, Mrs. Charles Guthrie and Mrs. Frank Arnold of BA, Mrs. Myrtle Brown of CJ, Mrs. Charlotte Campbell of San Dimas, a former member of Chapter L.

COMALT CARRIES THE MESSAGE OF GLENDALE

It is by actual growth that Glendale has won the slogan, "The fastest growing city in America." This growth has been in homes, streets, business houses and in population. It has been in the things that go to make a city—the things that count.

During the past few years this city has jumped ahead by leaps and bounds, as they say. There has been no holding it back. Every section of the city has benefited by the influx of California enthusiasts from the north, the east and the south.

Advertising in one way or another has had a great deal to do with the advancement of this city. Through writing to their friends "back home" the people of Glendale have induced others to come here, and the newscomers, in turn, have brought influence to bear among their eastern friends and neighbors. It has been a sort of endless chain.

There is another method of advertising that Glendale has received that has assisted greatly in the progress of this city. That is in connection with products made in this city that are being sent broadcast to the various parts of the country.

For instance, there is "Comalt," which is manufactured by the S. W Brown company of this city at 463 West Los Feliz road. This food beverage is becoming known throughout the east and every bottle that is sold bears the name of Glendale and states that the product is manufactured here.

The popularity of Comalt is spreading like wildfire. This health drink had its first eastern appearance at the convention of the National Beverage association in Provdience, R. I., last June, where a representative was sent by the local organization.

Since that time mammoth orders for this product have been received from New York, Pittsburgh, Detroit, Denver, Milwaukee, Buffalo, Michigan City, Austin, Tex., and scores of other prominent eastern cities. The demand for the product has known an unpercedented growth—and every bottle that goes out bears the name of Glendale. The manufacturers of this product take no chances of a mistake being made in the wording on the labels. Every label that is used is printed in Glendale and sent to the eastern distributors, and not a bottle of this beverage can be sold unless the label bears the name of the manufacturer and of Glendale.

It is not possible to measure the good that Glendale will receive through the sale of Comalt. With these labeled bottles going to every section of the country, to every city and village where this beverage will be sold, the value of this product, in an advertising way, cannot possibly be estimated.

Recently the manufacturers began preparing Comalt in syrup form for home use—for ice cream, pies, puddings, candy, custard, icing, and the like. This means that the words Comalt, the product, and Glendale, the place where it is made, will, within the next few months, find their way into thousands of homes in this land Can the value of this advertising to Glendale be estimated?

The real value of Comalt is not fully realized here. Those living at distant points are seeing the value of this product before the home folks are becoming aware of it. Neither is the advertising value to this city of this product realized "here at home." But the fact remains that every time a jar of this product is purchased by an eastern housewife and each time a bottle of Comalt is ordered over the fountain in the east the name of Glendale will be brought to someone's mind. Then the newspaper and billboard advertising of Comalt, each of which will bear the name of Glendale, California, will spread the name and fame of this city into thousands of towns and cities and will be worth millions of dollars to Glendale.

"Wherever Comalt is sold," said W. F. Ross, vice president of the S. W. Brown company, this morning, "it carries the message of Glendale. It has an advertising value for this place that cannot be estimated. The profit on every bottle that is sold comes to Glendale, which means more money to be spent in this community. This helps provide a payroll for Glendale, something that is greatly needed."

CAHUENGA PARK HAS SLOGAN "A MILE OF BARGAINS"

"A mile of bargains," is the slogan adopted for Cahuenga Park, that rapidly selling subdivision lying on the Ventura boulevard, a short distance from Hollywood. For a mile along this beautiful boulevard this tract runs. From the gradually sloping higher level lands above the floor of the valley to the topmost heights of the beautiful Hollywood mountains extends this tract.

Cahuenga Park lies within the limits of Los Angeles, where property values will increase as rapidly as they do anywhere in Southern California.

If you want a regulation city lot, you'll find it at the tract priced as low as $800, and $100 down will buy it for you.

And if you want a half acre, Cahuenga Park has them in choice locations fully improved for as low as $1250. This is less than the value of the raw land with no improvements, today.

Villa homesites in the Cahuenga Park estates overlooking all the valley are priced as low as $1800.

Whatever you want or can afford—you'll find it there.

Well located frontage, corners and boulevard sites, where traffic is bound to make values soar. When Cahuenga Park is built up in the next season, a veritable town will spring forth. People believe in neighborhood stores, and rentals are good. Everyone makes money, the merchant, the lot buyer, the building owner. There is, of course, only a few of these choice sites—the best will go first—but everyone of them offers a most unusual opportuutnity for handsome profits.

All of the lots in this tract, which is represented in Glendale by Young & Young, real estate operators, at 212½ West Broadway, Glendale, are sold on easy terms.

EAGLE ROCK NOTES

At the corner of York and Glassel yesterday, at 11:15, a motorcycle coming north and an Overland machine going south on Glassel came together. The machine attempt to turn east on York and hit the cyclist. According to the police department, the man in the Overland was to blame, as he violated the law by cutting the corner. No one was hurt, however. As several accidents have happened at this corner, it has been suggested that the city put in a button. It is hoped this will be done immediately.

The Kiwanis club will hold a meeting and luncheon tomorrow noon at the Mountain View Inn, 1918 Stanley. All Kiwanians please take notice.

Dr. Millakin, world-known scientist, will speak at the Occidental commons tonight. His subject is "Science and Religion," and the brotherhood of the Presbyterian church will have charge of the affair. The speech will be preceded by a banquet. Admission will be by ticket only. The time of the banquet will be 6:30 p. m.

"The Bird's Christmas Carol" will be given in the auditorium of the Central school tomorrow. The pupils will hear it in the afternoon also the parents who cannot come in the evening. The evening performance will begin at 8 o'clock. Everyone is invited to attend. Come to the evening performance, but if unable, then see the one to be given in the afternoon.

The Buchanan street school Parent-Teacher association, at the regular meeting last Tuesday, made the community Christmas affair the main topic. All of the organizations will get together and the Highland Park people especially, are going to put on a real Christmas affair.

The men's dormitory of Occidental college, will hold the regular monthly birthday party tonight at 9 o'clock. Several important things will be discussed, after which those who have birthdays this month will be spanked. After the spanking, everyone will adjourn to one of the rooms, where refreshments will be served.

MONTROSE NOTES

Newcomers to Montrose are Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hays who have leased the Devidal Tundt residence on East Honolulu avenue. The Hayses are reecntly from the east and intend making their home here.

Good news to the occupants of the various stores and offices in the bank building is that the workmen are today busily installing gas, which will provide adequate heat during the winter months and will also be useful in other ways.

Mrs. C. H. Henry of Sawtelle was a visitor in Montrose the first of the week. Mrs. Henry was here in the interests of business. She is the owner of various pieces of property in and about Montrose. Mr. John Roade of Imperial Valley was also in Montrose this week looking after business interests.

The 20-months-old baby girl of Mr. and Mrs. J. Winegate is recovering splendidly from a recent attack of pneumonia. The little girl was for a time in a very serious condition and little hope was held out for her recovery.

Mr. Floyd Mathis, formerly of Dalhart, Texas, arrived in Montrose a few days ago and announces his intention of making his home here. Mr. Mathis was accompanied by his wife and family. The trip was made by automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Crosby, who sold their home here some weeks ago, plan to move in to Los Angeles on Friday, where they will make their future home. The Crosbys' new address will be 513 Heliotrope Drive. They are looking forward to a trip to Florida within a short time.

KIWANIANS PLAYED SANTA AT HOME FOR BOYS

Thirty members of the Glendale Kiwanis club played Santa Claus last night to the members of the Strickland home for boys in Garvanza. Leaving here about 7:30, the party took over apples, candy, ice cream, presents and other things to make a spirit of Christmas prevail in the home.

All of the food was donated by various members of the club, the presents being given by the club as a whole. Harry MacBain donated two boxes of apples; Mr. Totman of Chaffee's grocery gave 25 pounds of Christmas candy, and the Glendale Ice Cream company furnished five gallons of ice cream, all of which was eaten by the boys and members of the party from Glendale. In addition to the "eats," each boy was given a handsome necktie and a balloon, the latter furnished by Frank Echols, of Roberts & Echols. A football and playground ball were given the home by Don H. Webb.

A program consisting of magic tricks, solos, recitations, etc., was offered, and the boys, in addition to the Kiwanians, voted it an extremely enjoyable party, a good time having been enjoyed by all.

ANOTHER BIG DEPARTMENT STORE OPENS

A. Ferber & Co. Inc., Have Selected Glendale for One of Their Large Stores

FASHION SHOW WILL FEATURE OPENING OF SHOW ON FRIDAY

Refreshments, Prizes and Other Attractions Will Be Offered Friends and Patrons on Opening Day

Purposing to give what is classified as the smaller cities in Southern California department stores which will provide the same service, the same selections and qualifications of merchandise at even smaller prices than the larger cities can provide, the A. Ferber Company's new store on Broadway and Maryland, will open to the public on Friday, December 14.

This beautiful new store with its ultra-modern equipment, is the logical—one might almost say necessary development of the Ferber business, which has been very successfully conducted in the South Brand location. This may be interpreted to mean that the A. Ferber store is anything but a stranger to Glendale and its large and wealthy contiguous territory.

Although established a comparatively short time, the original Ferber store rapidly outgrew its quarters and had the new building been completed at the October date as planned, it would well have been occupied at full capacity.

The arrangement of the new store will rival in every detail that of the other merchandise stores in Southern California. Stocks of merchandise will be unusually large, selections will be in such variety that the most fastidious taste may be pleased, and under the economical methods of distribution by which the Ferber stores are governed, prices will be extraordinarily attractive.

Almost simultaneously with the opening of the Glendale store, A. Ferber Company, Inc., will open a new store in Fullerton, which is of a capacity similar to the local institution.

These two stores are the first links in what is intended to be a chain of stores located in the better cities of the southwest. All stores in the Ferber chain will be conducted under the same general plan of merchandise distribution, which is generally asknowledged as being the most modern and economical way of bringing the product from the manufacturer to the consumer.

Convenience for the shopper is now recognized as one of the fundamental points in the mind of A. Ferber in planning and developing this Glendale store. While the stocks of merchandise will be unusually large, they will be so arranged as to be more easily accessible to the public, so facilitating shopping that all of the inconvenience that sometimes accompanies buying in the busy department store will be eliminated.

The first floor is to be devoted to those sections which usually are so located in the more modern type of stores. On this floor will be found an unusually extensive assortment of silks, woolen yard goods, linens, cottons, bedding and allied lines.

The hosiery section, which particularly interests the feminine population, has been given very large space, with stocks of extraordinary diversity. Knit underwear is located adjacent to the hosiery department. The wants of man also will be unusually well cared for by a furnishing department complete with those accessories which most interest the well-dressed man.

Easily accessible to the men's furnishings department will be a complete stock in the boys' department.

On this floor, also, the shopper will find toilet goods in wide variety, notions, sewing-room needs, and all those items of merchandise that contribute to the well-cared-for home and family.

At the rear of the main floor is located a very elaborate soda fountain with a complete equipment for serving lunches.

The plans of the company involve the addition of several other departments for the main floor, which plans will be announced from time to time as progress warrants.

The second floor of the new Ferber store is one of great attractiveness. Beautiful fixtures, worthy of the kind of merchandise they contain, are located at the greatest vantage points. On the west half, well toward the front of this beautiful floor, are found those items of apparel which most lure the feminine heart. Continuing toward the center and rear of this extensive floor, are those other essentials to woman's grooming—corsets, lingerie, silk underwear and and the like.

Near the stairway entrance on the second floor is located an infants' department, completely provided with those things so important to the happiness and welfare of the babies.

On this floor is located also a millinery department, fitted in most magnificent fixtures, done in ivory and mahogony. A long stretch of mirrors fronting this entire department, bespeak joy for milady, as she tries on the various modes of the hour.

In this location, too, is found those many elements of the wardrobe which charms femininity and really makes the store a place of delight for those who love the beautiful in apparel. So extensive are the assortments that it is inadvisable to attempt to give them in detail.

For the moment, because of its timeliness and the apparent demand, a great section of the basement store is devoted to the showing of Christmas toys. To the children's mind, Santa Claus has been most kind in his lavishness. This department will be a place of untold joy to the little boy and girl, as well as to the grown-up who has not yet lost the happy faculty of enjoying those things which contribute to the delight of the young.

The physical equipment of the new Ferber tore is probably as complete as modern ingenuity can make it. The lighting system, very wide in scope, makes the interior as brilliant as one of California's most sunshiny days.

The cash carrier system connecting with the various sections of the store bespeaks a highly gratifying service for the hurried shopper.

All of the other essentials to good service are a part of this institution, and the shopper at Ferber's will find when all equipment is installed that every one of the annoying little inconveniences that frequently accompany shipping have been obviated.

The floors are commodious, the ceilings are high, assuring the best in light. A wide sweep of display windows and large show cases with most beautiful and artistic background, brilliantly illuminated at night, make the "Ferber corner" one of the outstanding sections of downtown Glendale. These windows, planned according to the ideas of the best judges, will display merchandise to the very best advantage, giving shoppers opportunity to view the pervailing modes. The many conveniences will be readily apparent to all visitors.

When the doors of the new Ferber store open on Friday morning, the public will be privileged to view what is recognized as being one of the most modern and best equipped department stores in this section of California.

To celebrate the opening of the new store, Ferber's have planned two fashion shows for Friday, the opening days, one in the afternoon and one in the evening, at which will be shown the advanced style conceptions for women and children. To these fashion displays the public has been invited.

BENTLEY'S SUPPLIED LUMBER, ROOFING FOR B. & D.

The many thousands of feet of lumber used in the construction of the new Burn & Davis building, corner Broadway and Maryland, was entirely furnished by the Bentley Lumber company, 460 West Los Feliz road.

More than a hundred truck loads of both rough and finish lumber were delivered by this company, and only the best was used in the construction of the building.

In addition to furnishing all the lumber, this company held the contract for the roofing, several rundred feet of heavy tar paper being used. Their roofing work is guaranteed in material and workmanship against leaking.

The Bentley Lumber company is one of the largest in the city, running on a capacity basis daily. The splendid quality of the lumber and roofing, together with its low prices, were the reasons for this company getting the contract for this work.

VALUABLE PRIZES TO BE GIVEN AWAY BY FERBER'S

A great inducement to visit Ferbers in their new store is the fact that several valuable prizes are to be given away absolutely free by the firm. Included in the prizes are several merchandise orders, redeemable anywhere in the store, a large Ivory Pyralin mirror, two of the choicest hats from the millinery department, and other prizes. These are to be awarded to the holders of the lucky numbers.

The great fashion pagent promises to be a gala affair, several beautiful models having been chosen to display the wonderful new creations in cloaks, suits and dresses. Included in the revue will be several new importations from Paris and New York, both street, dinner and afternoon wear being featured.

The general public is cordially invited to attend this event and try for one of the several valuable prizes which are offered. The new store is located in the new Burn & Davis building at the corner of Broadway and Maryland, the entire basement, first and second stories being used by "the store of the town."

VIENNA ABOUNDS IN WINTER GAME

[By Associated Press]

VIENNA, Dec. 13.—In probably no city in the world is so much game to be found, in season, as in the markets of Vienna. Partridges and pheasants were lately seen in every shop, even in the poorer quarters, and now the hare-drive season is on and cartloads of them are common. They are the large European hare, ranging from 6 to 12 pounds, and form one of the principal food articles of the country.

These hares are killed in huge ring drives. Often from 10 to 50 or more guns are invited and, with one or two beaters between each gun, the ring of shooters and drivers, sometimes a mile in diameter, slowly closes in. As shots are directed groundward there is little danger to the hunters. It is not unusual for 1,000 animals to be killed in one day's shooting.

Shorter Hours Draw New Type Employees

[By Associated Press]

CLEVELAND, Dec. 13.—College graduates are found in the new class of men being assimilated today in the Cleveland steel industry. With the working day reduced from 12 to 8 hours, all steel mills report a notable influx of a different type of employee. Mountain boys from Kentucky and Tennessee are among others.

Previous to the reduction in hours, it is said at mills here, only the hardy would apply for positions which meant that nearly all their waking hours would be spent around hot metal. When the shorter day was adopted, however, there were a number of applications from college graduates who were willing to begin by cleaning the stoves of a blast furnace. Men formerly employed in offices and stores also have decided to try their hand at production.

VAST IRRIGATION PROJECT ORDERED IN QUEENSLAND

[By Associated Press]

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Dec. 13.—Parliamentary sanction has been given in Queensland for a new irrigation project on the Dawson river which will be one of the largest in New South Wales. The initial cost is estimated at $6,000,000 and a high storage dam, which it is proposed to construct, will require six years to complete.

The plan involves a large hydro-electric generating plant. The contemplated dam will impound something like 2,480,000 acre feet of water, which will be carried from the dam 27 miles along the natural bed of the river. More than 200,000 acres of irrigable land are included in the project and in addition there are 200,000 acres adjacent which are suitable for grazing purposes.

BROWN HANDLED BIG JOB ON FERBER BUILDING

The decorating and painting of the new Burn-Davis building, Broadway at Maryland, was done by T. S. Brown, a La Crescenta painter and interior decorator of note. Several other large buildings in Glendale have been decorated and painted by him, and his work is considered of the best. The contract was given to him due to his excellent work and the reputation which he has built for himself during the past few years.

Mr. Brown's specialty is wall stippling, and also the blending of colors in interior decorating. Claim is made by him as being Glendale's leading painter and decorator, and his work in the new building helps to back up this slogan.

ELMER ELLIOTT WAS CONTRACTOR FOR B. & D. BUILDING

General construction of the new Burn-Davis building at Maryland was in charge of Contracter Elmer Elliot,t living at 612 East Elk avenue. The building, which represents an expediture of more than $150,000, was just recently completed, and is a great asset to the city. A great deal of credit goes to Mr. Elliott for the speed and excellence of construction, the building having been completed in record time.

The building is two stories in height, Ferber's occupying the entire building.

Among other contracts held by Mr. Elliott is the Webb building, completed a few months ago. Many homes have been built by this contractor, also.

J. W. MORRISON WAS ARCHITECT FOR THE B. & D. BUILDING

The beautiful new Ferber building, corner Broadway and Maryland, which opens tomorrow evening with a monster fashion pagent, was designed by J. W. Morrison, a local architect, living at 702 Orange Grove avenue. The building is a work of beauty and a great deal of credit should go to the architect.

The class A, two-tsory building, is now occupied by Ferbers's department store, which in less than a year's business outgrew its old location on South Brand. The new building contains a well lighted main and mezzanine floor and second story.

Mr. Morrison, indesigning the building, carried out the modern idea in every line, and according to Mr. Mandelman, manager for Ferber's, the edifice has the largest display space of any store in the city. The spacious mezzanine circling the entire inside of the building gives several hundred extra feet of floor space, which will be used for the general offices, exchange desks, etc. Another important feature is the presence of an abundance of daylight, made possible by the many windows.

Mr. Morrison is an architect of note and experience, having been in this profession for nineteen years in Jamestown, N. Y., where he designed several buildings similar to Ferber's, in addition to hundreds of homes. Coming to this city two years ago, he became connected with the building firm of May & Hellman, in which concern he was manager of the architectural department. He is now in business for himself, with offices at his home until permanent quaters can be obtained. Among the many buildings designed by him before in this city are the Federal Bank building, C. L. Smith's Chevrolet building, Max L. Green's Oakland building, and many others, including several fine homes. He is now working on a large residence for Mrs. F. W. Wood, to cost in the neighborhood of $25,00, to be rrected at Lexington drive and Louise street.

B. & D. BUILDING WAS PLASTERED BY STINE & SON

Plastering for the new Burn & Davis building, corner Broadway and Maryland, was done entirely by Jesse Stine & Son, 514 West Broadway. The entire inside of the building is finished in plaster and the excellence of the work may readily be seen by an inspection of the new edifice. The main floor, occupied by Ferber's Department store, represents a great deal of work in this line, due to the extra highceiling.

Mr. Stine is a plasterer of note, having had a great deal of experience both here and in the east. He has landed the contract for several other large Glendale buildings, while hundreds of homes here have been plastered by he and his partner.

QUILL PENS ARE COMING BACK

LEIPSIG, Dec. 13.—Germans are returning to the use of the quill because of the high cost of steel pens. An ordinary steel pen now costs 200 million marks, and is beyond the reach of many Germans.

HARRY BETZ WAS THE BRICK CONTRACTOR ON B. & D. BUILDING

The new Burn & Davis building, recently completed at the corner of Broadway and Maryland, is constructed almost entirely of brick, H. E. Betz, 424 North Kenwood street, being the contractor for this work. Many thousands of brick were used,and the workmanship of the contractor is near perfect. Mr. Betz has been a brick and mason contractor in Glendale for the past eighteen years, and is very well known here. Hundreds of brick homes have been built by him in Glendale and vicinity. Chimneys, fire-places and walks also are part of his work. The Glendale Daily Press building, the Berman block at Brand and Elk, the Oren Buick Garage building, the new bank building on Brand and San Fernando, and many other big structures stand as a monument to his skill.

GLENDALE HARDWOOD FLOORING CO. LAID THE FLOORS

The Glendale Hardwood Flooring company, with offices at 304 East Broadway, furnished all of the flooring for the new Burn & Davis building, Broadway at Maryland, and the result is a high grade of flooring throughout the edifice. The entire main floor, occupied by Ferber's department store, is of highly polished hardwood, as are the floors of the display windows. The materials used were the best afforded by the market and the workmanship is of th best.

The Glendale Flooring company is a local organization, having been in business here for some time. Its specialty is the flooring of large buildings similar to the Burn & Davis, but they also do excellent work on homes. A sanding, scraping and polishing service is maintained by this company, and all work is guaranteed in materials and workmanship.

COKER & TAYLOR PUT IN PLUMBING FOR B. & D. BUILDING

The plumbing firm of Coker & Taylor, 209 South Brand boulevard, contracted for the plumbing work and fixtures in the new Burn & Davis building, corner Broadway and Maryland. Only the highest grades in materials and fixtures were used, this being in keeping with the rest of the construction of the building.

All heating appliances in the new block were installed by this firm, as was the other plumbing, complete from the rough work to the finish. Many of the finest large bufidings in the city have been worked on by the Coker & Taylor company, in addition to hundreds of homes being equipped with plumbing and fixtures by this firm.

Coker & Taylor claim their's to be one of the largest establishments of its kind in the city, they having been in business here for several years.

BUILDERS OF THE BURN-DAVIS-MECKFESSEL BLDG.

The new, two-story building, recently completed at the corner of Broadway and Maryland and which will house Ferber's Department Store, is owned by local men, these being H. S. Burn, S. P. Davis and F. W. Meckfessel, all of whom are old residents here, having lived in this city for several years.

This beautiful new building was constructed with the highest grades of materials and is modern in every line and has been constructed that another story can be added when conditions warrant it. The owners see a great future for the city and this magnificent building is the result of previous foresight on the part of these three men.

The entire building and basement will be occupied by Ferber's with the exception of one office in the rear, where Mr. Burn and Mr. Davis will conduct a real estate and insurance business. The new building is indeed a great asset to the city and helps to keep for Glendale the slogan, "The fastest growing city in the United States.

To those who have lived in Glendale for a long time will come the recollection of the old livery stables and blacksmith shop which once rested on this same corner, and which was for years one of the most up-to-date establishments of its kind in the city, it soon being forced to vacate on account of the rapid progress being made by the city then as at the present time.

According to Mr. Burn, East Broadway is rapidly advancing and other fine buildings are bound to spring up during the coming year.

Truths in Epigram

"Take care what you eat," said a theological professor to his students, "for if you have sour bread it will show itself in your sermons."—Anon.

No person talks much that does not say unwise things.—O. W. Holmes.

CHARITY AND BUSINESS

President Coolidge is understood not to favor charity in meeting the needs of Germany. To his mind such aid as may be necessary should be on a business basis. This might be proffered by means of a credit loan enabling Germany to meet the demands of the impoverished within its own borders. Assuredly a nation heretofore independent would be glad to escape the stigma of mendicancy. In feeding itself, it would be earning bread far sweeter than the bread of charity.

The situation is unlike any that organizations for the relief of distress have had to meet. When famine smites a land, or there is a great catastrope of flood or earthquake, the duty of such organizations is clear. With one accord they hasten to the rescue. The case of Germany is less easily understood. While its currency has depreciated to the point of worthlessness, its industrial activities have been on a larger scale than ever. A group of men at the head of industrial affairs has become enormously wealthy. Stinnes, chief among them, even now is negotiating for the purchase of German railways. In other words, there is vast wealth in Germany. By clever and ruthless manipulation, it has been diverted into the hands of a few. Upon these men there rests a responsibility from which they cannot escape. They would be deeply disgraced in the eyes of the whole world were they to permit aliens to save Germans from starvation. For them to continue piling up millions while from other lands came sustenance for the German poor, would be an anomolous procedure.

Senator Lenroot has introduced a bill for appropriating $20,000,000 for food relief for Germany. Were there known to be need of such action, a different view would be taken of the measure. There is no assurance that such need exists, or that whatever need does exist, could not be satisfied by helping Germany to get once more on a business basis.

SAFETY IN TRAVEL

The wreck of a train on the New York Central involving the deaths of nine passengers was a shocking tragedy. People of this country are great travelers. They have become accustomed to regard themselves as safe while journeying as at any other time. With firmer roadbeds, better rolling stock, and the perfecting of the block system, it is rare for a train to meet disaster. This wreck becomes the more shocking to contemplate in view of several circumstances that led up to it.

On a dangerous grade crossing—all grade crossings are dangerous but this one notably so—an automobile had become stalled. This caused the stopping of the first section of a limited train; the second section also was stopped in time, but the third dashed into the rear of the second. In an instant a wooden Pullman had been ground to splinters and passengers were dead and dying. Such was the inevitable fate of a wooden Pullman in the conditions. Everybody knows this. The builders of cars, traffic men, the public, are aware that in collision a wooden car possesses little more resisting power than inheres in a pasteboard box. Yet the construction of the type continues.

There was a time when all passenger cars were of wood. They were heated by ordinary stoves, often glowing hot. For a train of them to be wrecked and turned into a blazing ruin, was not uncommon. Then the steel car, and improved heating methods, reduced the peril. It should have eliminated it, for the superior quality of the steel car created a moral obligation for its exclusive use.

UNUSUAL WEATHER

When a visitor to southern California finds a lack of perfection in the weather that happens to be prevailing, he is informed that it is unusual. He is likely to smile in a superior way, but he has been told the precise truth. Taken the year through, there is no other region of the United States that for suavity of climate, and conditions of natural comfort, can be compared with California, particularly it may be said without malice, with this end of the state.

There recently has been a series of days marked by high winds. The visitation was unusual. It wrought some damage, and it created much discomfort. These admissions are made frankly. The weather bureau of course had an explanation for the phenomenon, which did not make it any easier to endure while it lasted. The dust and sand that got into circulation made exposure a hardship. There was no way of escaping it. The plain duty was to grin and bear it and hope for cessation. Many had difficulty in living up to the rule. One aviator soared to the height of 7000 feet only to find that he still was in a dust cloud. Let it be said again that all this was unusual.

Even in the hours when the windows rattled and visible grime sifted through invisible cracks, there was consolation in knowing such experiences rare, and in thinking of other regions where, summer or winter there is but brief respite from storm, and where the temperature runs regularly from blighting heat to bitter cold. People out here are so unaccustomed to bad weather, that perhaps they make an undue fuss when they feel its unusual presence.

AN EVIL OF JOURNALISM

The writers familiarly classified as sob sisters, constitute a distinctly evil factor in journalism. On many occasions mention of the lacrymose brood has been made somewhat frivolously, although in a manner meant to convey cordial lack of regard. It is time that the subject be taken up seriously.

When a crime has been committed, and the perpetrator has been caught, the sob sister, with an instinct as unerring as that of a dog in quest of a bone, seeks the place where the criminal has been locked up. The more repellent the crime, the more precipitate is the rush of the emissary. She proceeds at once to bedeck the prisoner with the raiment of heroism. She dwells upon the gentleness of his conduct at such times as he is not engaged in murder. She tells the world of the fine character she has discovered. Figuratively at least, she adorns his cell with flowers. Figuratively at least she weeps on his neck. She rebukes the cold implacability of the law that has him in its grasp. She asperses by inuendo the police who arrested him, the friends of the victim who urge prosecution. There never is a word in behalf of the victim, or of the family left to mourn. But the family of the assassin is portrayed beneath a group of halos. When the prisoner is a female the sob sister become hysterical in making clear the virtues of whatever sort of degenerate offender the female happens to be. This disgusting program is not exceptional, but is a rule.

Lately the history of a prisoner has been published, ostensibly from the pen of the prisoner herself, but the stuff is that of a sob sister doing her regular stunt in disguise. This prisoner was in love with a married man. She helped him dig up and incinerate the body of another man so that it might pass as his own. Then the pair fled. The body was identified as they had hoped, and in due season the supposed widow married again, and has children, thus adding complications. Yet this heartless and brutal creature, robber of the grave, pal of a scoundrel, prates of the joy she had "found in love."

The basic idea of this and similar trash is to create a sentiment that shall prevent a jury from doing its duty. It may not work in a particular instance, but it has worked many times. No sob sister tells the truth. She plays upon her own emotions by a structure of fiction, and tries to poison the public mind by passing this off as a verity. So far as she possesses influence it is all for the bad. She has passed the stage of being a mere nuisance, and has become a disgrace to journalism, and a menace to justice.

THE IDLE HOUSE

By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSEY

In Ohio, the state from which so many of our presidents come, is the most hideous place of torture in the world. It is called "The Idle House" and is a department of the state penitentiary.

Estelle Lawton Lindsey

Men who have committed especially heinous crimes are thrown into this living tomb without mental or physical occupation and there they rot the slow torture of the years or until death brings them release, and many times they go mad.

Both Governor Dohaney and Warden Thomas of the state penitentiary have appealed to the legislature to end this state of affairs, but so far the legislators have not done so.

"The Idle House" is a worse crime than any committed by its inmates; in the name of humanity and civilization it should be abolished. Condemning men to the dry rot of idleness reforms nothing; it merely destroys such remnants of manhood as may be left alive in a criminal.

However, this is not a lecture to the state administration of Ohio. Ohio enforces idleness as the worst form of punishment.

Digest that and then consider what myriads of men and women condemn themselves to endure. In what way does the individual idleness flaunted as an evidence of worldly success different in effect from the punative idleness in the Ohio state hell? Eh?

"Let us grow rich in order that we may stop work" is the prayer of thousands of thoughtless people. The prayer should be:

"Let us prosper so that we may do the work we love."

But suppose we do not like any kind of work?

Then, brethren, we are headed toward misery, degeneration and crime. No really active person, active in mind, body and emotions, can be wholly unhappy, because he is linked by innumerable tangible and intangible cables to the whole evolutionary process, which is always active and forever joyous.

People who are "looking for something to do" and enjoying misery while looking can end their misery by doing the first thing that comes to hand.

Sometimes I think that a brief sojourn in an idle house similar to that of the Ohio state penitentiary would do more to make parasites conscious of their parasitic iniquities than all the lectures and psychoanalysts in creation.

But I'd make the experience short, merely long enough to show the idle what torture of idleness de luxe.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

We had an Hour of Sorrow at the club last night. You know what I mean. No doubt you have been through such hours. Half a dozen paunchy, liverish, ill-tempered men sit about and put the world on the grill. On this occasion the complainants were aided by their wives, our club being of the two-seater sort.

"Poor Old Dan Bean," mourned the mourners. "Only fifty years old and popped off—just like that. Oughta lived to be ninety."

"Ah, yes—yes," groaned the chorus. "Oughta lived to be eighty, anyhow."

"Died just as he was walloping the ball—"

"Golf is a terrible game!" cried the sad six. "Especially for men of fifty."

So there was the precise place at which I cut in. I told 'em that I thought they were a set of the most confounded, cowardly fools I had ever heard whimper in my entire life. Men have died at fifty long before golf was ever heard of. Dan Bean could not have lived to be eighty. His arteries were like sticks of uncooked macaroni. If he had taken up golf earlier he might have lived forever—

"You golf fanatics—" sneered some one.

Wrong again, said I. Never played a game in my life. I probably never will, for I have enough open air dissipations now. But I am ashamed of a generation that is so devilish afraid of death that it sits about the stove crying into its handkerchief every time it hears that an old friend has passed on.

"This is a fine country," I said to 'em, "but there are, here and there, male and female old women who are so afraid of dying that they live in a state of animated death. Golf, marbles, currant jelly, night air, hydrant water, all scare 'em into conniptions. That sort of person cannot possible have a more worrisome time on the other side than he has here."

Legatees.
That is what we are.
You and I and all the rest of us.
Legatees of all the heroism and beauty and labor of the world for all of time.
All handed down to us.

* * *

Tradition.
Poetry.
Art.
Music.
Patriotism.
Free government.
All legacies of ours.

* * *

From time immemorial.
From the time the first seeker after truth discovered that precious thing.
From the time the first worker in metals solved the problem of making useful implements.
From the time of the first teachers and philosophers.
All of their precious gifts have been handed down to us.

* * *

We are the heirs of greatness.
Of truth.
Of philosophy.
Of all the self denial and self sacrifice and martyrdom of the world for a cause.
All the glory of these things have come down to us.

* * *

There was not always freedom.
Men were not always permitted to go and come as they chose.
They were the creatures of kings and emperors and lords.
Nor were they always permitted to think as they chose.

* * *

And left it to us as a precious legacy.
As did all the discoverers and scientists and chemists and physicians and jurists.
For nothing of truth has been taken away.
All of it has been left to the world.

* * *

So are we the heirs of all the wealth and beauty and spirit of all the ages.
The blood of patriots is ours.
And all that it means to us.
And the sufferings of those who were tortured for truth's sake.

* * *

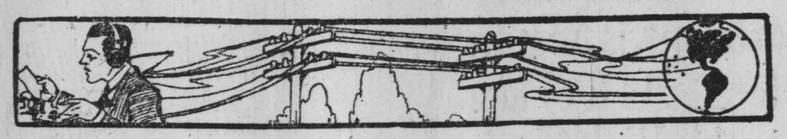
And as we are legatees so are we the trustees of that legacy and those gifts.
To hand down unsullied and unsmirched to another generation.
That our children may be richer in freedom.
Greater in truth.
Happier in knowledge.

* * *

Life is a great trust.
More than a mere living and breathing.
No good thing done but is a benefit to the world.
No heroism but makes life better for someone.

* * *

Legacies we have.
To hand down enriched to future generations.



Songs of the Poets

Late Leaves—By Walter Savage Landor

The leave are falling; so am I:
The few late flowers have moisture in the eye;
So have I too.
Scarcely on any bough is heard
Joyous, or even unjoyous, bird
The whole wood through.

Winter may come; he brings but nigher
His circle (yearly narrowing) to the fire
Where old friends meet.
Let him; now heaven is overcast,
And spring and summer both are past,
And all things sweet.

THE EXAGGERATION OF EVIL

By DR. FRANK CRANE

THE ruins of anything make upon the mind more of an impression of largeness, of grandeur and sublimity, than the thing itself. It is because our imagination is more powerful to awaken sentiments of wonder in us than is our vision. To paraphrase Maud Muller, "Of all deceptive words of tongue or pen, the most so are these: It might have been."

We hear of a drunkard—"What a gifted fellow he was! If it had not been for drink, he might have been President." Ten to one had he stayed sober he would have been as commonplace as you or I. The fact that he is a wreck gives our imaginations a chance.

So of an old woman we exclaim, "What a beauty she must have been in her youth!" Yet, doubtless all around us are girls more charming than she ever was, but we only see them with the eye, while we see the old woman's gone beauty with the mind's eye.

Horace Bushnell has a sermon on "The Dignity of Humanity as Shown by Its Ruins," in which he strikingly shows the divine nature of man by his devilishness, such as his wars, tortures, monster passions and perversions; the argument being that none but a divine-sized creature could fall so low. But it seems to me the reasoning is tainted with error; for we should beware of the estimate made by the fancy.

The temples of Karnak and Luxor, I dare say, seem more impressive to our imagination, stirred by their awful remnants, than they would have seemed to us had we lived then. We cannot possibly see anything so tremendous as what we can fancy we might see.

We are prone to magnify evil and minimize good. The one wrong thing we did during the day. Our outburst of passion, or instance of bad judgment occupies our mind at evening more than all the good things we did.

Newspapers think that the horrible and criminal and scandalous make better news than the normal and sane and gentle.

The woman with a "past" is fascinating.

Somehow or other we have linked evil and greatness together. But we are wrong.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

"INVISIBLE GOVERNMENT"
[Philadelphia Public Ledger]

The searchers for the "Invisible Government" that is supposed to be running these United States could find a considerable segment of it if they would prowl around Washington just now. The lobbyists have assembled or are assembling. The legislative committee of the American Federation of Labor and the same committee of the Railroad Brotherhoods have been in session planning their winter's campaign in congress. Washington always is full of lobbyosts and is jammed with them during congressional sessions. The manufacturers, the bonus hunters, the drys and the wets, the blue-law folk, the deep-waterway people, the farmers and scores of other causes, "isms" and movements maintain all-the-year-round headquarters there. It is from these and such as these that "invisible" governing flows when it flows.

THE "BUNK" IN HISTORY

[Letter to the Editor of the New York World]

Henry Ford's remark that he regarded history as "bunk" has subjected him to ridicule, but has it really injured him in the opinion of unbiased people? Now, I have read John Jacob Abbott's history of Napoleon and also Sir Walter Scott's "History" and lately Thomas Watson on the same subject. Now, two of the three must be bunk," yet they are all "histories." Did not Mr. Ford simply echo Napoleon, who is recorded as saying "History is a fable agreed upon"? Was Napolon ignorant? Roosevelt was considered an educated man; he wrote "history." According to him Thomas Jeerson was a "nuffy doctrinaire" and Thomas Paine was a "filthy little atheist." That is good "bunk," isn't it? Suppose Henry Cabot Lodge, Senator La Follette and Morris Hillquit were each to write a "history" of the last thirty years in the United States, and suppose an intelligent foreigner should happen to read one of them. He would be surprised when he read the other two wouldn't he? But they would all be "history."

Modern Version of New Testament

By EDGAR J. GOODSPEED

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO LUKE

"His name is John."

And they were all amazed. Then his voice and the use of his tongue were immediately restored, and he blessed God aloud. And all their neighbors were overcome with fear, and all over the hill-country of Judea all these stories were told, and everyone who heard them kept them in mind, and said, "What is this child going to be?" For the Lord's hand was with him.

And his father Zechariah was filled with the holy Spirit and he uttered a devine message, saying,

"Blessings on the Lord, the God of Israel,
Because he has turned his attention to his people, and brought about their deliverance,
And he has produced a mighty Savior for us
In the house of his servant David.

"By the lips of his holy prophets he promised of old to do this—
To save us from our enemies and from the hands of all who hate us,
Thus showing mercy to our forefathers,
And kepeing his sacred agreement,

"And the oath that he swore to our forefather Abraham,
That we should be delivered from the hands of our enemies,
And should serve him in holiness and uprightness, unafraid,
In his own presence all our lives.

"And you, my child, will be called a prophet of the Most High,
For you will go before the Lord to make his way ready,
Bringing his people the knowledge of salvation
Through the forgiveness of their sins.

"Because the heart of our God is merciful,
And so the day will dawn upon us from on high,
To shine on men who sit in darkness and the shadow of death,
And guide our feet into the way to peace."

And the child grew up and became strong in the Spirit, and he lived in the desert until the day when he proclaimed himself to Israel.

In those days an edict was issued by the Emperor Augustus that a census of the whole world should be taken. It was the first census, taken when Quirinius was governor of Syria. So everyone went to his own town to register. And Joseph went up from Galilee from the town of Nazareth to Judea to the city of David called Bethlehem, because he belonged to the house and family of David, to register with Mary, who was engaged to him and who was soon to become a mother. While they were there, the time came for her child to be born, and she gave birth to her first-born son; and she wrapped him up, and laid him in a manger, for there was no room for them at the inn.

There were some shepherds in that neighborhood keeping watch through the night over their flock in the open fields. And an angel of the Lord stood by them, and the glory of the Lord shone around them, and they were terribly frightened. The angel said to them,

"Do not be frightened, for I bring you good news of a great joy that is to be felt by all the people, for today, in the town of David, a Savior for you has been born who is your Messiah and Lord. And this will prove it to you: You will find a baby wrapped up and lying in a manger."

Suddenly there appeared with the angel a throng of the heavenly army, praising God, saying,

"Glory to God in heaven and on earth!
Peace to the men he favors!"

When the angels left them and returned to heaven, the shepherds said to one another,

"Come! Let us go over to Bethlehem, and see this thing that has happened, that the Lord has told us of!"

And they hurried there, and found Mary and Joseph, with the baby lying in the manger. When they saw this, they told what had been said to them about this child. And all who heard it were amazed at what the shepherds told them, but Mary treasured up all they had said, and pondered over it. And the shepherds went back glorifying God and praising him for all that they had heard and seen in fulfilment of what they had been told.

When he was eight days old and it was time to circumcise him, he was named Jesus, as the angel had named him, before his birth was first expected.

When their purification period under the Law of Moses was over, they took him up to Jerusalem to present him to the Lord, in fulfilment of the requirement of the Law of the Lord, "Every first-born male shall be considered consecrated to the Lord," and to offer the sacrifice prescribed in the Law of the Lord, "A pair of turtle-doves or two young pigeons."

Now there was a man in Jerusalem named Symeon, an upright, devout man, who was living in expectation of the comforting of Israel, and under the influence of the holy Spirit. It had been revealed to him by the holy Spirit that he should not die without seeing the Lord's Messiah. And under the Spirit's influence he went into the Temple, and when Jesus' parents brought him there to do for him what the Law required, Symeon also took him in his arms and blessed God, and said,

"Now, Master, you will let your slave go free
In peace, as you promised,
For my eyes have seen your salvation
Which you have set before all the nations,
A light of revelation for the heathen,
And a glory to your people Israel!"

The child's father and mother were astonished at what Symeon said. And he gave them his blessing, and said to Mary, the child's mother,

"The child is destined to cause the fall and raise of many in Israel, and to be a portent that will be much debated—you yourself will be pierced to the heart—and so the thoughts of many minds will be revealed."

There was also a prophetess there named Hannah, the daughter of Phanuel, who belonged to the tribe of Asher. She was very old, for after her girlhood she had been married for seven years, and she had been a widow until she was now eighty-four. She never left the Temple, but worshiped night and day with fasting and prayer. She came up just at that time and gave thanks to God and spoke about the child to all who were living in expectation of the liberation of Jerusalem.

When they had done everything that the Law of the Lord required, they returned to Galilee, to their own town of Nazareth.

And the child grew up and became strong and thoughtful, with God's blessing resting on him.

His parents used to go to Jerusalem every year at the Passover Festival. And when he was twelve years old, they went up as usual to the festival and made their customary stay. When they started back the boy Jesus stayed behind in Jerusalem without his parents' knowledge. They supposed that he was somewhere in the party, and traveled until the end of the first day's journey, and then they looked every-

The recent action of the board of regents of the University of California in establishing the full four-year course at the Southern Branch will no doubt have a great deal of effect upon the athletic situation in the Southern California Intercollegiate conference. It will do away with a situation that has existed in the ranks of the conference ever since the Southern Branch was admitted into the ranks of that body four years ago.

When the Southern Branch of the University of California was admitted into the ranks of the conference in the fall of 1920, the Branch was a two-year institution. It had had the previous year only freshmen work, and at that very time was just opening as a two-year college. It was at that time almost entirely of athletic material, inasmuch as having been hitherto a Normal school, the number of men in attendance was very small. That season the Cubs got through their football schedule without a victory. They did not fare much better in most of the other sports, but seemed to be real sharks at basketball. The next year following the situation was much the same. In that time the Cubs took but one football game. In basketball and baseball, however, they were more successful.

The fact that the Southern Branch was only a two-year institution greatly handicapped the Cubs in their competition with other schools. Freshmen were allowed to play on the varsity teams, otherwise only sophomores would have been eligible. However, with men going out at the end of the year it was impossible to build any real athletic teams, for it takes time to accomplish this object. Then again the fact that only two years of collegiate work were offered at the Southern Branch kept away many students, among them numerous athletes who would have otherwise attended there. They felt that the Branch was only a way-station on the road, and that they would have to move on in a little while to complete their work. Especially would this be a handicap to the athlete who desires to establish himself in one particular institution. For these reasons, the Southern Branch of the University of California, although several times the size of several other institutions in numbers, could not compete with these colleges whose teams were composed of upper classmen who had worked together for several years, and institutions that could offer an entire four-year course. For that reason a decided inequality has existed in the ranks of the conference for some time.

Last spring at their Los Angeles meeting the regents of the University granted the Southern Branch the third year of work. Junior classes commenced this fall. This, however, did not materially help matters, for the teams had not been together long enough to have built up a real machine, no seniors were present, a full course was not yet offered to attract the students, and finally the conference had ruled that the Branch could no longer use freshmen on its varsity teams. For these reasons the addition of the third year did not tend to change the situation.

With the addition of the fourth year things will be different. The Southern Branch will no longer be considered as a way-station on the road to education. It can offer to those who enter a full four-year course. This will, of course, tend to bring a great many more athletes to the university. Then having sophomores, juniors and seniors all eligible for the varsity, and having the advantage of being able to build up teams by a several years of work together, the coaches of the Cub institution sholud produce some real teams in the future. All this will tend to relieve the unequal condition that has existed in the conference. The Southern Branch will be on an athletic par with the other colleges of the southland and should, in time, with an enrollment now in excess of 4000, take its place as one of the greatest athletic institutions of the west.

TIGER YEARLING CASABA SLINGERS LOOK REAL GOOD

Last year the Occidental frosh walked away with the conference basketball title and from the present indications the rest of the conference contenders will have to hump themselves or they will repeat the performance this year.

The Tiger frosh surely have fine early season form and with such men as Mishkin, all-city forward from Hollywood; Neal Archer, also Hollywood star; Hammersley, Puente star; and eight or ten other men of equal ability they should develop a championship five. The frosh are practically assured a northern trip and more men should respond to Coach Nichols' call. Ten men will be selected for the northern trip so everyone has a chance.

WILLIAMS GETS LEAGUE FUNDS

[By Associated Press]

CHICAGO, Dec. 13.—The funds, furniture, documents and other league paraphenalia of the Pacific Coast league will be handed over to Harry A. Williams, the new president of the league, it was announced here last night. Mr. Williams conferred with William H. McCarthy, deposed president, and arrangements were made for the transfer of the league's property.

The league, Mr. Williams said, had about $17,000 in a bank in San Francisco and this, along with other belongings, will be transferred to Los Angeles, to which city the headquarters have been moved.

AFTER THE BANQUET

First Gent—"Yes."

COLISEUM TO BE THE SCENE OF TWO BIG MEETS

Los Angeles will be the scene of both the annual A. A. U. relays and the Southern Pacific branch A. A. U. championship this season. These events will be staged in the Coliseum, under the auepices of the University of Southern California. This decision was made at a recent meeting of the local A. A. U. Coach Dean Cromwell of the U. S. C. track team will take charge of both meets and plans to make them the biggest ever held.

The relays will be staged February 23, while the championship meet is to be pulled off on April 19. As the meets are to be held in the Coliseum they are expected to attract large crowds, as there are a number of track fans that would go to see a meet held in the Coliseum but would not go to see the same meet held elsewhere

The Southern Pacific branch of the A. A. U. will hold the Southern California Olympic games tryouts in the Coliseum on or about May 17. All men showing up well in the local tryouts will be taken back East for the final Olympic tryouts, which are to be held in the Harvard stadium, Cambridge. There will be no sectional tryouts in 1924, as there were in 1920.

In 1920 the final Olympic tryouts and the national A. A. U. championships were combined in one meet, the winner of each event becoming a national champion, and earning the right to compete for the United States in the Olympic games at Antwerp. Next year, however, the A. A. U national championship meet is to be held at Newark, N. J., one week after the United States Olympic team returns home.

The young man who had secured the first seat in the gallery of the theatre had brought a packet of sandwiches with him. He accidentally let them fall.

They dropped into the pit, where a stranger who picked them up immediately began to eat this gift which had come from the gods.

Suddenly the look of enjoyment vanished from his face. He looked up toward the gallery and shouted crossly:

SAGEHEN CASABA CHASERS LOOK REAL CLASS

They may not win the basketball championship at Pomona college this year, but whoever does is going to have a mighty tough time subduing the battling Sagehens from Claremont. Pomona has been steadily improving on the court game during the past three or four years, and last season finished with five games won and the same number lost. This gave them third place in the conference standings.

The main reason for the assertion that Pomona is to be strong lies in the fact that Coach Carl Schott has more good material than in any recent year. Although there are only two lettermen back from last season's team, the wealth of seasoned material on hand makes the outlook exceedingly promising.

Coach Schott will try a new system, using a ten-man team during the first half of the schedule at least. This means that during the first quarter he will use one team and then shift in an entire new five at the next ten minute period. Each quintet will have its own substitutes and in this way the team play of each team will not be broken up.

Wendell Lorbeer, forward from last year, and Lowell Wilson will probably play the shooting positions on one five, with either Earl Merritt or Osborne at center. The guard berths will go to Captain Paul Papazian and Ed McCully.

The other quintet will see Messing and Jessen forwards, either Young or Osborne at center and Worden and Mooney as guards.

Coach Schott will try this plan for the time being, and if it is successful may use it through the entire season. There is plenty of material at Pomona, and if the men can get enough practice together, the idea, which has been used in the east by many of the big institutions, may aid the Sagehens in their race for the championship.

"Now, Arthur," asked the Sunday school teacher, "why did Adam bite the apple?"

"Maybe they didn't have knives in those days," answered the youthful philosopher.

TROJAN HOOPSTERS ARE HARD AT WORK

After a week of preliminary warming up and training, the men of the U. S. C. varsity basketball squad, under Coach Les Turner, are beginning to settle down for a hard grind so that they will be able to hold their own on the floor when the Golden Bears invade the south in the early part of the year. As the big game in football is with California, so is the hottest series in basketball with the Bears. Last year both teams plit even with two wins apiece. Stanford will present a hard nut to crack.

Not many men have reported to Coach Turner for the team and more are wanted. According to Coach Turner, basketball is rapidly coming to the front in all universities and colleges where the casaba game was formerly regarded as a filler between football and track. The eastern games are played before capacity crowds and are hotly contested. The fans and students back them up to the finish and great turnouts for the teams give the coaches something to work with. Some of the western schools as California, Washington, Oregon Aggies and Oregon also have large turnouts and often as many as three cuts are made to get the squads in proper order.

However, U. S. C. does not have to make many cuts as there are not enough men out, says Turner.

The loss of Anderson and Hawkins from last year's squad will weaken the team somewhat, but it is thought that Ross, speedy center from San Diego junior college will take Hawkins place at center. Another contestant for the center position is "Cot" Rice, last year's center on the Frosh quintet. From reports, Rice is showing up like a million dollars at shooting baskets and also his height gives him an advantage for jumpingg. Ed Wingarde, also a sophomore, looks good at forward.

"Can you," inquired the motorist, "tell me where I'll get board and lodging for the night?"

"Aye," answered the highland native. "Keep right along th' road until it's no' there, then ye'll see a hoose about two miles acrost th' bank. If ye can get t' it, th' owner'll put ye up if he dosen't take a dislike to ye."

RIDDERHOFF WILL CAPTAIN 1924 OXY GRIDIRON ELEVEN

Dave Ridderhoff, the human switch engine who played fullback for Occidental College this season, was yesterday elected captain of the 1924 Tiger varsity. "Tarzan" weighs 185 pounds and was the backbone of the Orange and Black backfield on both offense and defense. Ridderhoff was elected by a margin of one vote over Clarence Ebers, the star halfback who made a touchdown from the kickoff against Caltech.

Injuries handicapped Ridderhoff in the Caltech contest and he was kept out of the game against Southern Branch and of the Pomona game up to the last ten minutes of play. With his shoulder tightly bandaged he was short into the game and after the kickoff plunged from his own 25-yard line to Pomona's 10-yard line by successive rushes into the line. A fumble by the Tiger quarterback prevented a score just a few seconds before the final whistle. Ridderhoff graduates in February, 1925.

GLENDALE HI VARIETY SHOW FOR FIRST TIME TONIGHT

An opportunity to inspect the new Glendale High school auditorium will be given all who visit it tonight or tomorrow night to attend the annual Variety show.

Glendalians are especially invited to attend the performance tonight. On this occasion greetings will be extended by H. W. Yarick, president of the High school board of trustees. W. E. Hewitt will represent the Chamber of Commerce Mayor Spencer Robinson also will be present.

Glendale "Dynamiters" will be presented to the audience at tonight's show by Coach Normal C. Hayhurst. They are expected to get several rounds of applause.

The program for the vaudeville is expected to be one of the finest ever presented by Glendale Union High school.

"The Trysting Place" is the title of a comedy by Booth Tarkington. It is expected to get a lot of laughs as the plot revolves around the attempt of three couples to obtain seclusion in the lobby of a country hotel. Miss Charlotte Busby is the director. Those in the cast are Miss Doris Osmun, Carleton Lawson, Miss Ruth Berrier, Horace Anderson, Miss Margaret Longeley and Kenneth Helm.

"A Darky Consultation" is the title of a little "patter" between Harry Murphy and Paul Cunningham. This is calculated to be humorous.

Serious numbers of the program will consist of two piano selections by A. J. Wolter, "Minuet in G" by Paderewski, and "Octave Study" by Leschetizky.

Curing your Golf Troubles

By Jim Barnes

Dear Sir:

Can you give me any advice on how to get better distance with my mashie? I am unable to get more than 125 to 130 yards, whereas I see any number of players, whose games are hardly better than mine, using their mashies for distances as high as 160 yards. I use about a three-quarter swing and play the ball about fourteen inches away from me. Would I get more distance by playing it further away?

J. V. M.

If you play the ball further away from you and lengthen your swing, ou will get more distance, but I certainly would not advise you to try it, especially if you are keeping pretty good control over the club for distances on which ou are now using it. A three-quarter swing is all that should be used for the limit distance with a mashie. If you want more distance take a longer club, a jigger or even a midiron.

If your friends are playing a mashie for longer distances, they are either pushing the club, or else they are naturally longer players than you are, and I dare say that they would do better to use a longer club on distances ranging around 150 to 160 yards.

The thing you want to do, if you want to make consistent improvement in your game, is make a practice of selecting a club that will enable you to get home without slugging at the ball. Any player who has to make a special effort to get a given distance with a club is simply making the game harder for himself, and the sooner he learns to use a club that will get him there with a free easy swing, the sooner his game will improve.

'OH-HO' COMES AGAIN AS SANTA CLAUS HERALD

Next week "Oh-Ho" will be staged again in Glendale. This announcement does not come as a surprise following the record this show made here last week, when it was accorded the prize of having been the finest show ever staged in this city.

"Oh-Ho" is going to be staged again to gladden the hearts of hundreds and hundreds of believers in Santa Claus, all Glendale children. The money made on the show is going to be spent so that these children will still have cause to believe in Santa Claus, that their Santa Claus appeals will not have been in vain.

The Exchange club of Glendale is sponsoring the show. It all came about at yesterday's meeting of the club, when D. Ripley Jackson, president of the Exchange club, turned over to the club some hundreds of letters that had been received at the Glendale postoffice addressed "Santa Claus, North Pole." In these letters were appeals from children, chiefly poor children, for some toy, or doll, or candy, or some little Christmas gift.

"What are we going to do for these children, Exchangeites?" asked President Jackson. "Most of these appeals come from children whose parents cannot afford to make them happy Christmas morning."

"We are going to take care of them," chorused the members of the Exchange club.

And, to raise the money that these little hearts can be gladdened on Christmas morn, the "Oh-Ho" show will be staged, the funds accruing from the show going to purchase the gifts for these kiddies.

The theatre in which the show will be given has not yet been decided on. The Exchange club is making plans to secure a place where the thousands who will want to do their bit toward helping this cause can be accommodated.

The show is to be an all-Glendale affair, given at a price that will fit the pocketbooks of all.

Every little boy or girl who is going to receive a Christmas present through the staging of the show is a Glendale boy or girl. The cast that is staging the show is an all-Glendale cast. And the toys and dolls and candy that will be purchased will all be bought in Glendale, so it is going to be a gala Glendalian event all around.

"Oh-Ho" has had a meritorious career in California. This show has been staged in more cities of this state than any other production. More than 150,000 Californians have already seen the show. Dr. Benjamin Ide Wheeler, president emeritus of the University of California said of the "Oh-Ho" show, as staged in Oakland, with a cast made up chiefly of U. C. students, "I have never seen a more entertaining and cleaner musical production. From curtain to curtain there is a succession of good clean fun. It is a producton that everyone should see."

The dates and place of staging will be announced in tomorrow's Press. Everyone in Glendale will be looking forward to the repetition of this wonderful musical show, for the great cause for which it is to be staged.

Glendale's Sewer

construct main sewers or laterals to said sewer so to be constructed under the terms of this agreement.

Section 10

"That said party of the second part hereby agrees to comply with and to take all measures within its power to require all persons, firms or corporations within its boundaries using said sewer so to be constructed hereunder, to comply with any and all requirements, rules and regulations which the said part of the first part, city of Los Angeles, shall or may by ordinance or resolution place upon and apply to persons, firms or corporations using said sewer within the boundaries of said city of Los Angeles, or within any territory which may hereafter be annexed to or consolidated with said city.

"IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the said city of Los Angeles, has by resolution of its city council, caused this agreement to be executed by its mayor and city clerk, and the said city of Glendale has, by resolution of its council caused this agreement to be executed by its mayor and its city clerk, the day and year first above written.

CITY OF LOS ANGELES,
By Geo. E. Cryer, Mayor,
Robt. Dominguez, City Clerk.
CITY OF GLENDALE,
By Spencer Robinson, Mayor,
A. J. Van Wie, City Clerk."

Section 9 of this agreement permits Los Angeles to lay sewers in Glendale to serve parts of Los Angeles that are tributary to the sewer to be constructed under the terms of this agreement. This provision was incorporated in order that Los Angeles might serve parts of Eagle Rock and possibly Burbank. This same privilege is, however, now granted to all California cities by state law, where they find it necessary to use the streets of another city to lay sewers, water mains, etc. The city of Glendale will exercise her rights in this matter by laying 6500 feet of intercepting main in the streets of Los Angeles and approximately 1800 feet on Dryden avenue, Casa Verdugo.

Section 10 of the agreement requires Glendale to abide by all the rules and regulations which Los Angeles applies to its own citizens or institutions using the sewers of Los Angeles. These requirements include the use of grease traps and other devices looking to the proper operation of the sewers and are an advantage to Glendale as well as Los Angeles.

BOWLING GREEN IN GLENDALE NEXT?

sport in California, where not many clubs are functioning as yet. Exposition park has a green and so has the Encino Country club. It should attract to this city a fine class of people and its location so close to the Oakmont Country club will be a decided advantage.

Others associated with Messrs. Baron and Taylor in promoting the project are E. Leo McMahon, Arthur J. Mailloux, D. F. Bowler, and M. Walters. It is expected the incorporation of the club will be effected in the near future and a general invitation will be sent out to all residents of Glendale and vicinity to unite with it about the first of the year.

POLAND BALANCES BUDGET BY SAVINGS

[By Associated Press]

WARSAW, Dec. 13.—Poland's budget for 1924 shows a balance, a fact regarded as a distinct step toward financial recuperation. Originall it amounted to $300,000,000, but this amount of revenue being impossible to find, it was cut down to $200,000,000.

An encouraging feature is the fact that balance is obtained not by a foreign loan, but by economies at home.

VERDUGO HILLS POST OF AMERICAN LEGION, NEXT

The slogan adopted by the Verdugo Hills Post, American Legion, organization of which is well under way, is "100 per cent by Christmas." A meeting of ex-service men from Montrose, La Canada, La Crescenta and Sparr Heights was held on Wednesday night at the Sparr Heights Community building to discuss the matter. Meetings are to be held there every Wednesday night.

The next meeting is to be an informal open session at which all ex-service men in the district are invited to be present. There will be an entertainment, good time and "eats." Several officials from Los Angeles will be present to assist in the work of organization. Shortly after the first of the year the state commander will pay a visit and at that time present the charter to this new post.

SPECIAL ON GAS RANGE

We are overstocked on one style Favorite Range. The blue-trimmed white porcelain does not sell as well as the grey, so we have reduced it from $86.00 to $75.00. This stove has cast steel oven, porcelain enamel throughout and will last a lifetime, as it cannot rust. The oven is well ventilated, bakes quick and economically. See it while they last—we have only a few. Will exchange for your old and give time on the difference.

GLENDALE ROTARY HAS FULL PROGRAM

Louis, Mo. Roy Kent was called on to tell of the meeting held last week regarding the Boy Scout camp at Haynes canyon, several members not having been able to attend.

He said they had decided at that meeting to lease at a nominal figure for a term of years to the Boy Scouts, 40 acres of the canyon property to be used as a Boy Scout camp, the remaining 35 acres to be used by members of the Syndicatef or cabin sites. It was planned for those interested to drive up to the canyon with their families Sunday and inspect the property. The trip will be taken between 2 and 4 in the afternoon. Arrangements were made for an arrow to be placed at the road running to the canyon from Michigan avenue to indicate the way.

President Karr made special mention of the annual Variety Show which is to be given at the Glendale Union high school Thursday and Friday nights. It will be the first function of any kind in the new high school auditorium. He also reminded the members of the Christmas party to be given by the Rotarianettes two weeks from tonight.

Dan Kelty told of last night's dance in such a way to make those who stayed away regret their inability to attend. Dick White told of the crippled children the club has been aiding and it was agreed that the members would take care of their Christmas.

An invitation was read from the Los Angeles Rotary club to the Glendale Rotarians and their wives to attend a "Rotary Annual," which they intend to give every year. This year the event will be held at the new Biltmore hotel, Saturday evening, January 5. The program will include a reception and a high-class entertainment, interspersed with short dances, and will be given as complimentary by the Los Angeles Rotary club. The meeting was concluded by the reading of a letter from the district governor, Paul Reiger, regarding membership fundamentals.

HUNGRY SEALS DEVOUR SALMON

[By Associated Press]

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Dec. 13.—Annihilation of immense herds of fur seals has been recommended as a measure of protection for salmon in Cook Inlet. The seals are said to be making great inroads on schools of fish headed for the spawning ground.

While saving a vast number of salmon, the trapping of the seals is expected to yield the fishermen a comfortable source of income. The skin of the seals common to this region yields a fine, durable leather, and there is said to be considerable profit in seal oil.

JACKIE COOGAN IS ALL BOY IN "LONG LIVE THE KING"

"Long Live the King," his first Metro picture, which is at the Glendale Theatre again today, reveals Jackie Coogan at the zenith of his powers in a delightfully romantic story by the supreme spinner of romantic tales, Mary Roberts Rinehart.

Even without its star, "Long Live the King" would rank high as a cinematic achievement. With Jackie Coogan, it achieves distinction as a film masterpiece.

No characterization which Jackie has created heretofore has fitted him so completely as the role of Crown Prince of Lavonia. Ferdinand William Otto in the story, and as Jackie portrays him in the picture, is all boy. Every emotion—of joy, of sadness, of puzzlement, of wistful desire, and of juvenile mischievousness, to which the normal eight-year-old is heir, is to be found in Jackie's portrayal.

In short, the Crown Prince of Lavonia, despite his rank and title, is the boy who is yours in your dreams of parenthood.

Foley's Friendly Fancies

TROUBLE

If you have a bit of trouble
It will grow and then redouble,
It will haunt and it will follow
If you fear it and you fly;
There is just one way to meet it,
There is just one way to beat it,
That's to step right up and greet it,
Look it squarely in the eye.

For the thing you think is trouble
May be no more than a bubble,
If you walk up to it bravely,
If you meet it with a smile;
But if you think you're done from it,
If you think you can run from it,
It will follow and o'ertake you
Ere you've run a single mile.

Trouble's like a shadow lying,
And you can't escape by flying,
Where you fly it follows after,
Everywhere that you may go;
But if you stand still and face it,
Then the noon sun will efface it,
And the shadow that you fled from
Will be gone before you know.

So remember that a trouble
If you run will just redouble,
And the faster you run from it
So the greater be the ill.
And the only way to beat it
Is with a clear eye to meet it,
And with courage you'll defeat it
If you'll face it standing still.

NEW GOLF CLUB PLANNED IN LA CANADA SECTION

Roy N. Clayton, of 205 West Broadway, local manager for O. B. Thomas company, owners and subdividers of Salisbury Manor, La Canada's exclusive residential and business district, reports that La Canada is to have one of the finest golf courses in the country.

Within the next few weeks work will commence on what promises to be the finest golf course in Southern California when the La Canada country club links will be laid out. Last night 30 of the representative golfers of this section of the country gathered at the Jonathan club at the invitation of Willie Hunter and Martin Leach to hear the announcement of plans for a golf course which will be the equal of any in the world.

The new La Canada country club will be located just off Michigan avenue near Flintridge, overlooking the La Canada valley. One hundred and twenty-five acres have been set aside for a golf course, and Hunter, John Duncan Dunn, internationally known golf architect, E. S. Armstrong, Dr. A. P. Moulton, George Cline and Wally Lohman have all looked over the property and declare it is ideal for golf.

Decomposed granite makes up a soil especially favorable for the cultivation of turf, while an unlimited water supply assures a course which promises to be the best in this vicinity. The enthusiasm with which the project is greeted by all who have seen the site is contagious, and before the gathering had broken up last night all present were heartily in favor of the establishment of one or more golf clubs in Southern California.

The need of more facilities for golf in Southern California will be partially met by this club. That California will be the center of the golf world in the near future is admitted, and more good links are needed. The establishment of the La Canada country club by such men as are behind it promises much for the future of golf in the southland.

Mr. Clayton states that this club is to be within 400 feet of their property and is very enthusiastic over the above project and says that this will help to make La Canada one of the show places of Southern California, this being the third country club of its kind within a radius of a mile of Salisbury Manor, La Canada's center.

Small Edwin had lost his pencil and his mother told him that he should have a place for everything and keep everything in its place.

"I do, mamma," replied the little fellow, "but sometimes I forget where the place is."

CAHUENGA-PARK

Just What You Have Long Waited

For a full mile along beautiful Ventura Boulevard, the greatest highway link between Los Angeles and the North—Cahuenga Park stretches its expansive acres. From the gradual sloping level lands above the floor of the valley to the topmost heights of the beautiful Hollywood Mountains—Cahuenga Park spreads its glories at your feet—a mile of bargains almost a mile wide.

Located right in Los Angeles City, with every advantage of that thriving city, where property values will increase as rapidly as they do in the city's center, Cahuenga Park holds more opportunities than any place you can name. Everything that man seeks in land is embraced within its bounds.

You need not be a pioneer at Cahuenga Park. Store buildings are completed, homes dot the broad, high acres, everywhere there is building, and this makes land valuable. Any lot you buy in Cahuenga Park will pay you a profit.

We bought the 1100 acres that we are now developing long before the activity started. We bought it cheap, and we are selling it the same way. We are passing our bargain on to you. We want every one of our purchasers to make a profit. They always have—that's our reputation. When you buy from us you get an acre with all modern city improvements, in the city, for less than you'd pay for a skimpy lot.

Fully Improved Residential Lots

If you want a regulation city lot, you'll find it here priced as low as $1050, and one fourth down will buy it for you. If you want a half acre, we have them in choice locations, fully improved, for less than the value of the raw land with no improvements TODAY.

Villa Homesites in the Cahuenga Park Estates overlooking all the valley are priced as low as $1800.

Business Lots

Well located frontage, corners and boulevard sites, where traffic is bound to make values soar. When Cahuenga Park is built up in the next season, a veritable town will spring forth. People believe in neighborhood stores, and rentals are good. Everyone makes money, the merchants, the lot buyer, the building owner.

There are, of course, only a few of these choice sites—the best will go first—but everyone of them offers a most unusual opportunity for handsome profits.

The highlands have always been the most desirable of locations by people everywhere. The southern slopes of the Hollywood Mountains are limited in area and unlimited in highness of price—expansion there for the coming millions there is impossible. They must come over the hills into the San Fernando Valley.

Facts Worth Knowing About This Property

Cahuenga Park is actually only fifteen minutes from Hollywood—seven miles from Hollywood Boulevard.

The Mulholland Scenic Skyline Drive traverses Cahuenga Park for nearly two miles.

In Cahuenga Park there is a site of two acres reserved for schools—at present free busses carry children to nearby schools.

Modern brick store buildings have been erected in Cahuenga Park. Hillside and canyon sites covered with the natural beauty of trees and wild flowers, right on the threshold of the city, are rare. In Cahuenga Park you have hundreds of acres to choose from.
